The morning block of time is meant for students to complete coursework required for classes. It is the expectation that students are engaged in their learning during regular school hours.

In the remote instruction schedule are students required to attend live virtual sessions?

It is expected that students are in attendance at live sessions. Teachers will be mindful of individual student needs during emergency remote learning and should work with students and families who need exceptions.

Will teachers monitor the amount of time a student spends online?

Teachers are not required to determine and/or track the amount of time that a student is spending online but are responsible for taking attendance. As students log-in and engage in PCSD online learning platforms, their activity equates to being present for attendance purposes.

Treasure Mt Jr High School Quarter 2 Report Cards are now available in PowerSchool.

Students and parents can log in to PowerSchool and click the "Report Card" icon to view and print the report card as needed. Please direct questions about grades to your teachers via email.
